

Get into Security

June 2017

“ The course has been absolutely fantastic for me and I have learnt so much from it. ”

Background

Gurpreet felt that the course had given her the skills and experience to succeed in the security industry, plus a renewed belief in herself. The work experience that she had completed at the end of the course has led to her being offered a permanent position in her new career path.

The Course

The Get into Security Course, run by Work EastRen, was split into two parts. The first part focuses on building confidence and positivity so that candidates have the ability to succeed on the course and at interviews.

The second part of the course teaches specific skills required to work within the security industry, including conflict management and learning to read body language to diffuse potentially dangerous situations.

The Future

Gurpreet felt that the course had given her the skills and experience to succeed in the security industry, plus a renewed belief in herself. The work experience that she had completed at the end of the course had led to her being offered a permanent position, and she was just waiting on a date to start her new career.
